

Misato Morino
16/5/15
CLSK121, 7th period
Prof. Hunter
Draft #1

Study Abroad Makes Your World Wider

Study abroad is known as a good education to bring up children to be competent.

Undergoing study abroad will change your value.

First of all, study abroad breaks your stereotypes in your mind. In the university, there are many international students from other countries. Because of mass media and other source, you may have some stereotype against other country's people. However, it is not always true. You will have exchange culture in your university, and it will give you a new impression against various things. After changing your mind, you can accept things in flexible. You can afford enjoy your international life, and you will gain new knowledge.

Second, study abroad promotes you to independent yourself. You have to live alone in other country. There is no person helps you every time. You have to consider everything by yourself, decide, and communicate in other language. It will give you a confident and leadership. In addition, the education style is different from your country's one. You should struggle and survive in a good and different educational environment. You will be able to develop your academic skill and ability to think things considerately.

Third, you can gain a good memories which encourages you in study abroad. The experience cannot be undergone in your home country. Each country has her own culture, traditional festival, and food. For example, halloween is famous and popular in the U.S., but it is not familiar with Asia. It is totally flesh experience, and you can understand the details about the country. It helps your student life because you can work har

In conclusion, study abroad makes you change stereotype, promotes independent, and gives memories encouraging your life. Theses experience will your world wider, and your future should change dramatically.